

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

Society for Social Work and Research

2022 DISTINGUISHED CAREER ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

The Society for Social Work and Research (SSWR) will present its annual Distinguished Career Achievement Award at its next conference, January 12-16, 2022, in Washington, DC. Nominees for the Distinguished Career Achievement Award should have cumulative career accomplishments that set them apart from other leaders in social work research regarding the extent to which their contributions have advanced the state of the art of social work research and/or its utilization. The nominees' accomplishments should exhibit outstanding scholarship, a rigorous approach to social work research, innovation, a major impact in a substantive area, and a major contribution to the social work profession. Nominees should have a bachelor's, master's or doctoral degree in social work/social welfare or be a faculty member (current or emeritus) in a social work program. International nominees are welcome.

Nominations for the award should be in the form of a letter describing the career accomplishments of the nominee relevant to the above guidelines and providing a persuasive rationale for why the nominee merits consideration for the award. Candidates may nominate themselves or be nominated by others. In either case, nominating statements should contain the nominee's name, current address, phone number, email address, and curriculum vitae. Please also include the nominator's name, address, phone number, and email address. One to three letters of support from others may also be included in the packet.

Only SSWR members may submit nominations. The SSWR Board has set a policy that no sitting member of the Board may be nominated for this award nor may a Board member submit a letter of nomination or a letter of support.

Anyone who submitted a nomination for the 2020 or 2021 award will not need to do so again this year; these materials will be considered active for this year. You may send an updated CV or letters of support but this is not necessary. Nominators may only nominate one nominee for this award.

The award recipient will be honored at the Awards Ceremony at the 2022 conference. This is one of the most prestigious awards in the profession. We strongly encourage you to nominate an outstanding individual.

All nominations must be received by June 30, 2021.

Nomination letters and supporting materials should be sent electronically to:
